Exciting Times in the Garden

This term has been exciting in the garden.

We have constructed a willow tunnel which will look green in the Spring and will be lovely for the students to crawl through.

We have also had 400 trees and bushed delivered so the students from the garden club, Forrest School and Routes are going to be very busy planting them all!

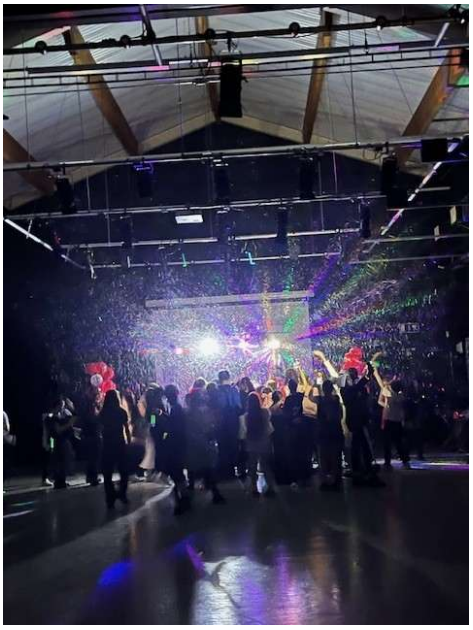

An electricity cable has been dug into the ground to provide electricity for the new fish pump.

As ever the garden focuses and teaches students about sustainability and where our food comes from, as well as creating a team atmosphere in the garden club.

Music, Dancing, and Bubbles at the Foxford Year 8 Disco

Last night the drama studio became the Foxford School Disco!

There was music, bubbles and glow sticks!

I interviewed Eden Cassidy who didn't come to last year's disco but is loving it this year, she especially loves the lights and being with her friends.

Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Gallagher said the glow sticks were fun and they enjoyed doing "The Macerana". Mrs. Gallagher even walked the dance catwalk at the end of the evening with Mrs. Jones finishing it with a "peace and pout"!

For the members of staff who attended the feeling was that they were enjoying the disco very much and loved seeing the students all dancing and having fun together.

Mrs. Jones loved "seeing all of our amazing Foxford students having so much fun dancing together," she went on to say how events like this make her "proud".

While Mr. Bell felt "it was good to see the kids having lots of fun after a long term." He went on to say that "it was scary in the teachers dance competition".

Foxford Remembers

World Wars began since countries were already having loads of problems with each-other, and one event pushed things way far over the edge. World War I began to take place in the year 1914 after Archduke Franz was killed, but the real reasons were that countries were building up their armies, forming strict alliances while competing to be the strongest of all.

World War II began in 1939 when Germany had invaded Poland. This took place because of the remaining arguments from World War I. Some countries were very aggressive and attempted to take over others land (countries). Conflicts rapidly grew which slowly built up to the start of World War II.

World Wars ended when countries became too weak, too damaged and even under the cause of pressure to keep going. World War I ended in 1918 when Germany realised if they kept fighting they would lose. There soldiers were exhausted, its allies were giving up on fighting more, and the civillians back in Germany started to run out of food and supplies.

Germany agreed to stop fighting,later a peace treaty was signed.

World War II ended in 1945 due to their leader Adolf Hitler death. In Europe, it ended when the allies defeated Germany. This caused Germany to surrender and the war ended. Soon after this the United States Of America dropped two atomic bombs on Japan. This also led Japan to surrender. After all of this the rest of the world decided to push on peace.

Rememberance Day is celebrated to honor the soldiers who fought and died in wars for the sake of protecting our land and us. Every year on November 11th people use their time to think about their sacrifices. At a specific time there is a moment of silence that lasts two minutes. This is done to remember when the World Wars ended. On this day people wear red poppies on their clothes to show respect, this is because red poppies grew on the battlefields after the war. Schools communities, and cities sometimes hold ceremonies where poems are read, names of fallen soldiers are shared, and wreaths are placed at their memorial. Rememberance Day is a quiet respectful day meant to remind us of the cost of fallen soldiers and important of peace.

Rememberance Day began after World War I to honor the soldiers who died in the war. It first took place on November 11, 1919, one year after the fighting stopped. Countries wanted a special day to remember the people who sacrificed their lives, so they held ceremonies and a moment of silence. Over time, more countries joined in, turning it into an important tradition. The red poppy also became a symbol of Rememberance Day due to the fact they grew on the battlefields after the war.

Foxford Sports Desk

At Foxford School we play a variety of sports, giving students the opportunity to try out sports students may love as well as sports they may love not as much.

Obviously we have PE lessons where we do a variety of sports yet we also have extra curricular activities, these include : football; netball and dance plus many more.

At Foxford during PE lessons we also have other sports such as badminton and dodgeball.

I asked Miss. Cross what her opinion is of sport at Foxford who said " At Foxford we have a variety of sports that everyone can take part in. If I could improve on one thing it would be that more girls get involved with sport."

Y8 Netball Results:

- Foxford V Bluecoat WON 12-2, Foxford V Finham Park LOST 10-2

Y8 Football Results:

- Foxford V Coundon WON 4-0, Foxford V Coundon WON 6-1, Foxford V Sidney Stringer LOST 5-3
